Project Overview

The Document Management System is a web-based platform developed for Dr. Yanga's Colleges, Inc. (DYCI) to address the challenges faced by students and staff in managing academic document requests such as the Transcript of Records (TOR), Certificate of Registration (COR), Certificate of Grades (COG), and Form 137, which traditionally require students to line up at administrative offices. This manual process is often time-consuming and inefficient, leading to long waiting times and delays in document preparation. The system modernizes this process by offering a centralized and user-friendly online platform where students can submit requests, track their status in real time, and receive notifications when documents are ready, reducing the need for repeated follow-ups and in-person visits.

The system supports three main user groups: students, staff, and administrators. Students can submit requests anytime and monitor their progress, staff members can efficiently review, validate, and process document requests, and administrators manage user accounts, monitor system activity, and approve or reject requests to ensure proper coordination, without generating reports. By minimizing paper handling, reducing human errors, and streamlining workflows, the system improves efficiency, transparency, and reliability. Overall, the Document Management System enhances the academic service experience for the DYCI community by providing a more accessible, organized, and student-centered approach to document management, supporting the institution's goal of delivering responsive and efficient academic services.
